ABOUT MAIN LINE MEALS ON WHEELS:

- There are Meals on Wheels programs all over the country. Each one operates independently so we are not all the same.
- Like most other programs, we would not be able to operate without our volunteers. We have about 250. They faithfully arrive each day to pack and deliver your meals.
- Also like other programs, we are mindful that it is not just about the meals – we want to be sure we are in regular contact with you so that we and your loved ones know you are safe and well.
- Our program is not subsidized by any government entity. The amount we charge you for your meals pays for the food (as charged by our suppliers), and the containers. Money for all of our other operating expenses comes from contributions. Contributors in our community include religious organizations, businesses, individuals, foundations, service clubs, and many of our volunteers who contribute financially as well as giving of their time.
- Over the years, we have also received contributions from patrons like you who receive our meals. If you are in a position to contribute to our program, please know that we are a 501(c) (3) non-profit corporation, and so contributions are tax deductible. Some of our patrons have contributed over and above their regular charges when they receive the meals. Others have done it through a bequest in their will, or by specifying us for memorial contributions. However it is done, it will be greatly appreciated, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping to put food on the table of other homebound people, some of whom may not be able to otherwise afford our service.
